BRATTLE HILL ASSOCIATION STARTS MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

At a special meeting of the Brattle Hill Improvement Association held at the home of D. J. Farren, 125 Brattle street, a membership committee was appointed by the president, John J. Heaney. This has in view an enlargement of the organization to cover the entire 11th precinct.

A committee of 12 will interview all property holders, and legal voters of the precinct, acquaint them with the policy and purpose of the organization, and urge their affiliation with it. The policy and purpose are mutual helpfulness, and seeking such improvements and betterments as the members believe are necessary in the precinct. The dues have been set at $1.00 a year, payable after acceptance as members by the board of directors.

The organization is desirous of obtaining a large membership of public spirited citizens who are in accord with its aims. In the opening drive of the campaign, 5 teams will canvas the entire Brattle Hill section. It is earnestly requested that the voters and property holders give serious consideration to plans for improvements and betterments.

Exchange Ministers Cordially Greeted

Congregations of the Arlington churches which participated in the annual exchange Sunday showed the cordiality of their feelings for the visiting ministers by turning out for the morning services in large numbers.

The exchanges were made as follows: Rev. Ralph F. Palmer, First Universalist; Rev. R. R. Hadley, First Baptist; Rev. R. T. Broek, Orthodox Congregational; Rev. Laurence L. Barber, Calvary Methodist; Dr. William Shaw, Heights Baptist; Rev. Arthur W. Dyer, Trinity Baptist; Rev. Grady D. Feagan, Park Avenue Congregational, and Rev. Gordon E. Bigelow, First Methodist.

Rev. John Nicol Mark of the First Parish church exchanged with Rev. Henry Wilder Foote of the First church, Unitarian, Belmont. This was part of the biennial program of the First Parish.

FORMER ARLINGTON GIRL CHOSEN "MISS CAMBRIDGE"

While several hundred people looked on, Miss Josephine Broome, formerly of Wyman street, and now a resident of Cambridge, was chosen "Miss Cambridge" for 1933 out of a large group of contestants at the third annual reunion and dance of the Willard Athletic Club of Cambridge, at Hobbs Auditorium, Davis square, Somerville, last Friday evening.

The "Miss Cambridge" contest was held during the intermission and the contestants passed in review before the judges many times before the final choice was made. The committee of judges consisted of Joseph D. Callahan of Arlington, chairman, assisted by Representatives Paul A. Dever and Charles C. Cavanaugh of Cambridge. Following Mr. Callahan's announcement that Miss Broome had been selected, Representative Dever presented a large trophy to her on behalf of the club. Miss Broome attended Arlington High until she moved to Cambridge a short time ago.

CHANDLER SCHOOL TRUSTEES ANNOUNCE SCHOLARSHIPS

As a part of the fifth anniversary celebration which will take place during 1933, the Chandler School trustees have announced the establishment of regional competitive scholarships. Arlington is in Region Four with Watertown, Waltham, Belmont, Concord and Lexington.

The purpose of the scholarships is to help make possible to deserving girls a comprehensive course in secretarial training which a lack of funds might otherwise preclude. It is the desire of the trustees that the scholarship go to the individual most deserving of it.

SAMARITANS ENTERTAIN STATE MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Samaritan Society of the First Universalist church entertained the Massachusetts Universalist Missionary Society on Tuesday. Mrs. Lester Collins, Mission Circle, pres., gave the welcoming address to which Mrs. Seth Brooks of Malden, state vice-president, responded. A particularly interesting talk on Russia was given in the afternoon by Mrs. Mosher of Boston, international secretary of the Y. W. C. A.

Luncheon was served at noon in the church vestry at tables decorated with carnations. Mrs. Percy Moody headed the luncheon committee. Her helpers were Mrs. Ingham Bicknell, Mrs. Arthur Wyman, Mrs. Marion K. Peirce, Mrs. Clarence Needham, Mrs. Joseph P. McCann and Miss Edith Winn.

Annual Meetin Orthodox Congregational Church

The annual meeting of the Orthodox Congregational Church, which was last Friday evening, was presided by a supper, served in the church vestry, by a committee composed of Mrs. Edward A. Lincoln and Mrs. Merton C. Bradleyco-chairmen; Mrs. W. A. Godbold, Mrs. Ernest Steele, Mrs. Thebaud and Mrs. Bernard Teel.

In the absence of the moderator, Henry A. Kidder, who was detained at home by reason of a severe cold and also by the illness of Mrs. Kidder, Earl Lewis was chosen to act in that capacity and discharged this duty acceptably.

The reports read by the leaders of the many departments and activities in the church consumed some two hours, but all showed the church to be in an especially encouraging condition. The report by the pastor, Rev. Laurence L. Barber, revealed that he has made 614 pastoral calls during the past year, that the total membership of the church is 565, and that forty persons have been received into the church, making a total of one hundred and twelve received during the two-year pastorate of Dr. Barber.

Loren W. Marsh as chairman of the Prudential committee, gave a most comprehensive statement by the use of the blackboard as to the money that would be needed for the coming year. Expenses have been cut where it was felt that they could be, although in every instance with regret. Mr. Barber voluntarily has taken a 10% cut in salary. The amount appropriated for the running expenses of the church was $10,371. No money was appropriated for music other than for the organist. Mrs. George B. C. Rugg was made historian of the church in view of its approaching one hundredth anniversary.

The following list of officers and committees were elected at this meeting:

Deacons, (3 years): Alfred C. Cobban, Bernard G. Teel; Deacons, (4 years): Archibald C. Eagleson and Maurice L. Hatch; Deaconesses, (2 years): Miss Edith M. Fox and Mrs. M. Josephine Butler; Clerk, (1 year): Albert W. Wunderlich; Treasurer, (1 year): Everett G. Cobb; Assistant Treasurer, (1 year): Mrs. Frank W. Wunderlich; Collector, (1 year): Mrs. Frank W. Birthday Supper at Calvary Draws Crowd

One hundred and ninety members of Calvary Methodist church attended the birthday party in the vestry last week Thursday evening. Of these sixteen were charter members.

Each organization in the church contributed something to the occasion. The Ladies Aid society, with Mrs. C. S. Nelson heading the committee, provided the supper. The tables were decorated with paper of pastel shades and paper of the same shades was used for the caps and aprons of the girls who served as waitresses.

Albert H. Morris acted as toastmaster. Mrs. N. N. Hartwell, president of the Ladies Aid, told of the work of the society. Mrs. F. H. Robinson spoke on that class and the members sang "Happy Birthday," to which an original verse had been added.

Members of the Paquinose presented "The Duchess Comes Bouncing In." The parts were taken by Miss Louise Fader, Miss Isabel Gratto, Miss Edith Howitt, Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Estelow, Miss Mollis Steeves and William Richmond.

For the Epworth League Murray Purdy sang a solo with Miss Doris Hartwell as accompanist. Miss Helen Bradford and Miss Carolyn Moses played a duet for the Unalvi and Miss Louise Sampson of Somerville gave a reading for the Women's Missionary Society. The Men's Class entitled their offering, "The End of the Matter," and brought the program to a close with greetings by Dr. William Shaw.

Mr. Morris was elected lay delegate to the conference with Mrs. Nelson as alternate.

Surprise Heights Girl On Fifteenth Birthday

Miss Thelma Soderquist, of 30 Crescent Hill avenue, spent a very quiet fifteenth birthday anniversary on January 17 until about eight o'clock in the evening when eighteen of the young people of the neighborhood arrived unexpectedly.

After presenting her with a handsome black Scotch terrier—one guaranteed not to bark or require any food or drink, in fact, a dogression terrier—the party proceeded to have a general good time playing various games. Prizes were won by Virginia Pomeroy, Natalie Fredriksen, Melvin Livingston and George Savage. Refreshments consisting of punch, sandwiches, cookies and cake were served.

MR. MATTHEWS CHOSEN HEALTH ASS'N OFFICER

John O. Matthews, principal of Junior High School Center, was chosen assistant treasurer of the Southern Middlesex Health Association at the annual meeting held Tuesday evening at the North Reading State Sanatorium for children with tuberculosis. Mrs. Robert Murphy was chosen director for Arlington. After the election supper was served and a reception for the incoming officers was held. The office of the association is at 661 Massachusetts avenue, Arlington.

Mrs. Murphy, who is chairman of the Tuberculosis Health Committee, of the Arlington Welfare, was unable to attend the meeting, as she was ill. Mrs. Roscoe Perry and Mrs. Sprague attended, the latter being secretary of the Tuberculosis committee.

The reports of sales of Christmas seals were read at this conference and Arlington was first on the list as having sold nearest her quota. Boston was twenty per cent under her quota. The average for the towns of the rest of the country outside of Arlington was twelve per cent under.

The Arlington committee feels very proud of being at the head of the list. The members think that part of their success was due to the efforts of some of the unemployed. They delivered the seals to the homes without compensation, and were glad to do something to show their appreciation for the help that had been given them. In fact they helped in every way they could.

R. D. LEND-A-HAND TO SPONSOR DECOU LECTURE

At the January meeting of the R. D. Lend-a-Hand Club held Monday at the home of Mrs. Bernard Teel, it was announced that the tickets for the Branson de Cou lecture on "Alaska" to be held at Robbins Memorial Town Hall Thursday evening, March 9th would soon be ready for distribution.

This promises to be a most entertaining evening. Tickets may be secured from Mrs. Clifford R. Gleason, 20 Wellington street, telephone Arlington 1136, from any R. D. club member, or at the door.

Monday evening the officers and teachers of Calvary Methodist Sunday School met with Mrs. John Hess at her home on Carville avenue, East Lexington.

High School Runners

Lose to Brookline

The "big three" of the Brookline track team performed just well enough to nose out Doc McCarty's well-balanced team by one point, 39 to 38. Brookline has been picked to win the Andover Interscholastics and probably the B. A. A. meet, too. Thus Arlington's great showing at Brookline Saturday afternoon puts the Red and Gray board-men up in a select circle.

A clean sweep in the standing broad jump for Brookline was the main factor in its victory. The High School has practically no entry in this event which is not a common one anyway.

The meet opened with the field events in the Brookline gym, the first event being the shot. On his fourth throw, Crovo bagged first honors, with 45 feet, 4 1/2 inches. Swartz's best was only 43 feet, 9 inches. Swartz was not at his best because of a bad boil on his right wrist, which had caused a considerable swelling. Garfield, Arlington's promising sophomore, stepped up with a toss of 36 feet, 6 inches, to take third.

Swartz and Plotkin led the way in the high jump, but Gray stuck just to see what might happen. With the bar at 5 ft. 7 in., the two heralded six foot jumpers began to knock the bar off. They stripped off their sweat clothes and cleared 5 ft. 8 in. and so did Graf. Swartz cleared 5 ft. 9 in., and Plotkin followed, but on this third try. Gray couldn't quite make it and had to be content with third, but he had certainly worried the big fellows. With a sweep in the standing broad, Brookline led 20 to 7 when the teams went outdoors to the new board track. It wasn't a good day for running. The track, being new, was slow and it was plenty cold. In the 40-yard hurdles, Brookline increased its lead with Plotkin and Rogers taking first and third. MacFarland pushed the lead, all the way, losing by a scant margin for a second.

The A. H. S. misdeed Higgins in the dash. He was just getting into shape when he took that fall down at Harvard. However, Phinney did a nice job, fighting his way up to sandwich between Johnson and Rogers of Brookline for another second.

Arlington came to the fore in the 300 and 600-yard runs. Garfield and McLean won their time heats, both clocked at 37.2. If Higgins had been there it would have meant a clean-up. In the 600 Little Ted Foster ran a superb race, taking the lead at the gun. On final lap Hall zoomed up from fourth position, and came in with Foster for a tie. Anderson of Brookline was a poor third.

Red Hanlon lost a heart-breaker in the 1000-yard grind. He should have had a little more respect for Brookline's Rae, who finished second to Medford's great Kozwick last year in the State meet. At any rate he jumped into the lead on the third lap. With three laps to go the red-headed fighter opened up—just a bit too soon. On the next to last lap Rae jumped him on the back stretch. "Red" hung on grimly, giving everything, but he tired and finished fifteen yards behind the flying Rae.

In the relay, Arlington won easily. Phinney, the lead-off man, beat Johnson to the corner, and it was all over with Garfield, Foster and McLean each adding a couple of yards.

The summary:

35-Yard Dash—Johnson (B), 1st; Phinney (A), 2nd; Rogers (B), 3rd. Time, 4.4 seconds.
40-Yard Hurdles—Plotkin (B), 1st; MacFarland (A), 2nd; Rogers (B), 3rd. Time, 5.5 seconds.

SPORTS

Basketball Five Win

Over Belmont, 23-19

The Arlington High School quintet continued its winning ways, after its temporary setback by Chelsea High, with a 23 to 19 victory over a fairly strong Belmont team Wednesday afternoon at Belmont. The Red and Gray dribble artists were handicapped seriously by a mediocre referee, who was a bit pro-Belmont. The climax of his activities came with the expulsion of Hendrick and Seretto from the game, Hamilton and Greeley getting the call.

Hamilton Leads to Victory

Great credit goes to the sub-center. He made good two beautiful throws to keep Arlington on the top-side during a determined rally by Belmont. After this, Arlington followed with another basket from the floor and then Wright finished off the afternoon with a pretty flip to take scoring honors with 9 points.

The game was very even except for the last few minutes. The two teams alternated their markers perfectly up until the half-time, when the score stood 9 to 9. In the third quarter Belmont stepped ahead with a free throw. Arlington answered with a basket, but again Belmont retallied. The period ended with Seretto scoring perhaps the prettiest shot of the day. Arlington 13, Belmont 12.

Arlington's Surge

The last period opened at a terrific pace, both teams scoring. Soon after the opening whistle Seretto and Hendrick were given their walking papers. On their arrival into the fray, Hamilton scored one of his all important baskets and Belmont answered with a floor pitch. Arlington was fighting hard to add to that one point lead, but Belmont hung on grimly. Husky Crovo on one of his rushes was stopped; he flipped the ball to Hamilton, who found no one uncovered to whom he could pass. Taking cool aim, he flipped the ball through the ring for two needed points.

The crowd was in a stampede, the Arlington rooters begging for the boys to hold that lead, and hold it they did by scoring one more basket than Belmont could. Thus the margin at the final whistle was four small but decisive points.

Hardwick Shines

The Arlington H. S. second team has not been functioning well this year. Wednesday it looked like a new team when it scored an easy win over the Belmont subs, 27 to 11. The transformation was largely due to Hardwick, a new entry in the Arlington roster. The lad covered his assignments well and scored 6 points besides. Hamilton was the high scorer of the game, with 8 points.

The second team as well as the first was severely handicapped by the officiating. By actual count, the whistle was blown 52 times in one period of the second team game. However, the big trouble was that the official seemed to see only Arlington's infringements.

Belmont Police Dept. Challenges Arlington

Sergt. E. C. Jacobs, who has charge of the police department pistol drills, has received a challenge from the Belmont police department for a special match. The challenge has been accepted and the match will probably be held next Wednesday.

The Belmont team recently gave the American Legion the only defeat it has had. There will be a return match between the Legion and Belmont on the Arlington range tonight.

Arlington Shut Out

By Stoneham, 3 to 0

The High School hockey team was pushed way down in the bottom half of the Greater Boston Interscholastic League Saturday afternoon at the Garden when a neat Stoneham offense completely swamped the locals to the tune of 3 to 0. A few nice rushes by Bullock and checking by Lane were Arlington's only bright spots.

The locals got off on the wrong side at the very start when Hook was uncovered and scored in 25 seconds. The Sullivan line with Greco and Collins at the wing positions tried hard to even the count, but their attack lacked technique. Big Al Lane was given two minutes after a face-off in front of the Arlington net. During his absence, Hook skated through the entire A. H. S. club on a solo dash. He split the defense, pulled Sakolan out on a fake drive, and whanged the disk into the open net.

Any chance for a come-back was spoiled by penalties on Sullivan and Bullock, leaving only Captain Sakolan and three skaters on the ice for Arlington. The rest of the period was consumed in Arlington's doing a good job in preventing a Stoneham score.

The second period was most uneventful. The third saw Stoneham again score right off the bat—in 40 seconds. The Stoneham captain, Kearns, picked up a rebound after a businesslike rush and passed the Red and Gray goalie to complete Arlington's misery. Arlington's efforts to score were made null and void by the opponent's speed in overtaking anyone who tried to get away.

High School Nosed Out By Chelsea, 25-24

With a half a minute left to play in a roaring basketball game between Chelsea and Arlington High school in the local gym last Friday evening, the score stood 25-23 in the visitors' favor. Stavisky, Chelsea's left guard, proceeded to maul Wright, who was thereby given two free throws—a chance to tie the game. Wright's first throw was good, the second was wide. Arlington's ace forward played a whale of a game, and it was just too bad that it wasn't in the books for him to loop his last throw.

All the damage in the feature game occurred in the third quarter, when Chelsea piled up 13 points. Gold was uncovered and succeeded in ringing up 8 points alone, nose-bandage and all. This faculty covering was divided between Hendrick and Clarke. Hendrick played so far forward that he was not fast enough to fade back with the pass to Chelsea's left guard and be there to prevent a toss at the basket.

Arlington Leads at Half

The Red and Gray got off to a fast start. After a basket by the aforementioned Gold, Wright crashed through for Arlington's first score. Crovo and Clarke made their free tries good. The "Husky" then sank one on a snappy play, a new one just devised by Coach Johnson. The hard-working Wright notched up two more points, and Crovo and Clarke again sank foul shots. The first quarter ended with Stavisky scoring Arlington 10, Chelsea 5.

In the second quarter, Seretto took charge of the Arlington offense. Soon after the opening whistle, he got away, making his toss. Then Saltzman scored for Chelsea on a foul. There was a jump at the Arlington end of the court. The Chelsea man got the tap and the ball was headed toward his guard. Seretto intercepted by batting it to Wright, who dribbled three times, flipped it back to Seretto to score and to bring down the house all at the same time. Berg put Chelsea back in running with two shots from the floor and a foul. Thus the boys went off for the long rest with Arlington leading, 14-11.

In the third quarter a foul throw by Hendrick and a basket by Wright were the only scores by the A. H. S. Saltzman, center, started off the period with a basket. Gold followed. Then Saltzman again was loose. Clarke decided then and there that the big center was to be watched, and he didn't score again. But that left Gold loose to score their baskets in quick succession. Score at the quarter's end, Chelsea 24, Arlington 17.

Arlington's Superb Rally

In the face of that seven-point lead, Arlington fought like mad. Seretto bagged a shot from under the basket with a Chelsea man riding on his back. The light-haired forward made another point on a foul, as did Hendrick a moment later. The flag was up and the crowd went wild. Chelsea called for time, their precious lead dwindling. Score, 24-21. The attack kept right on, however, when Wright made his chance to score. The referee called a double foul on Wright and Stavisky. The Chelsea lad made his good for the only score in the period for his team, and Wright missed.

Then came the dramatic moment when Wright had the chance to tie and got one of the two needed points. But Chelsea got the ball and held it until the whistle.

THE SPORT ADVOCATE

The crowd that turned out for the Chelsea game reminded us of the games back in 1926, '27, and '28, when Donahue, Lowder, Driscoll and McNamara were the attractions. It is too bad the new building can't be used, for a large crowd cuts down the already too small court considerably.

We still believe in Friday, the 13th! The High School lost to Chelsea in the 3rd period when the visitors scored 13 points.

The one point difference in score about measures the difference between the two teams, that is on the local floor. In a neutral gym the margin would be greater. Chelsea is a very smooth and unhurried outfit.

Speaking of by-gone days, it was back in 1928 that the A. H. S. put Chelsea out of the Tech tournament, 16 to 15.

Many are wondering whether Wright would have gotten both his free tries at the end of the game if time hadn't been called while Stavisky was being put off. That gave the stellar forward a lot of time to think about how much they meant.

While we are on the subject of foul throws, let us say a word referring to Wright, who is good, it seems that on our home court a better percentage should be gotten. Referee Newell was calling them often on both teams, yet Arlington only got three more points by this route than did Chelsea.

Big Crovo is shaping up into a real guard. Berg, usually a big scorer, was only able to hoop two shots all evening. Berg covered a lot of ground trying to get loose, but everywhere he went Crovo wanted to go, too.

The superiority of the visitors over Arlington is greater when one thinks of the second stringers. Those Chelsea boys, mostly sophomores, are big-time artists already.

Referee Newell is Belmont's football coach. He was equal to the occasion. The boys didn't get away with much.

The High School track team was right in style with the basketball team, losing by a one point margin to Brookline, 39-38. The words, "Moral Victory" never prove much, but great praise is due Doc's fighters. They pushed the Brookline stars plenty.

The result couldn't have pleased Coach McCarty better. Arlington lost because of the standing broad jump. The Red and Gray boys have heard of it but the event has never been on the locals' repertoire. If the A. H. S. had won it probably would have meant "Class A". Doc likes his "Class B" rating.

The closeness of the final count surprised nearly everybody except one man, Arlington's great coach. He doesn't talk about the stop-watch much. Time means nothing; what he wants is fighters. He's got 'em, thus no surprise.

Graf did a great job in the high jump. We believe that if he could have cleared 5 ft. 9 in., Plotkin, a so-called six-footer, couldn't have gone higher. Graf's 5 ft. 8 in. is an inch higher than he has ever done. Somehow, we wish he would try the "roll" and drop the ancient "scissors".

Wilbur Hall, with lots more work is a potential champion. He lacks judgment in pace. He should stick closer to Arlington's trim little Foster on the early laps. Against Brookline and Medford the lanky lad had too much left.

The Brookline coach wanted to run the relay with one lap to the man. All Doc said was, "What, one lap? No relay, no relay." So they ran it with two laps per man. Both coaches were right. Brookline's four were better baton passers, Arlington's better runners.

Arlington Girls Outplay Cambridge at Basketball

Completely outplayed by the Arlington High basketball girls, the Cambridge Latin sextets went down to crushing defeats under the scores of 45 to 9 for the Seniors, 38 to 5 for the Juniors, and 19 to 11 for the Sophomores last Friday at the Arlington High School.

From the very beginning of the game the Arlington Seniors held the lead. Basket after basket was scored by the two forwards, Midge Rice and Buddy Keane, whereas the opponents made but one point during the entire half. Rice scored 13 points during this half and 10 points were made by Keane. Captain Alexander, usually a forward played jump-center during the first half of the game with tall Dot Richardson as side-center. The Cambridge girls sensed their defeat from the very beginning when they saw how tall were both center and defense.

The Cambridge girls picked up somewhat during the second half but succeeded in making only eight points. Alexander changed from jump to forward and kept the spectators spellbound while she scored 20 points in succession. Rice added two more points to the score during the last half.

The Junior team also started off with the lead. Natalie Pangborn

Alumnae Girls Plan Dance
For Basketball Funds

Miss Dorothy Parks, chairman of the Girls Alumnae Basketball Club, has announced that arrangements are being made for a sport dance to be held next Friday at the Middlesex Sportsman's Club. Ed Walsh with his Golden Pheasant Orchestra from Woburn will play the dance music. The girls hope to reap as large a profit from this dance as from the one held during the hockey season in order to buy the necessary basketball equipment.

The same group of girls, who made such a successful hockey team, have enthusiastically formed a basketball team. Although a schedule has not yet been perfected, the team plans to play at least sixteen games. The girls also hope to obtain permission to use the Junior High School East gymnasium for practice on Monday nights.

With sufficient practice, an A-1 team may be expected. Besides Miss Parks, the club consists of Betty O'Neill, Irene Crosby, Pete Goodman, Louise Donnelly, Margaret Scannell, Frances Carter, Helen Cartullo, Tiny O'Sullivan, Margaret Hart, Ruth Dugan, Lillian Dennen, Bernice Hayes, Helen Russell and Henrietta Cartullo.

A. A. A. Game Ends
In Small Fracas

A small but, nevertheless, earnest free-for-all occurred Wednesday evening at the Junior High East gym to end the game between the Arlington Athletic Association and the Lexington Minute Boys. At the very start the visitors didn't like some of Referee Manning's decisions, and were not reticent about expressing their opinions. "If this is the story, everything goes," yelled Spellman, Lexington's rough and ready guard. Winn protested and pleaded for reason. Another referee was decided upon, Crocco accepting the doubtful honor. The fact that the Arlington manager was officiating didn't please the Play Boys from over the line, either. So one of the Lexington Porters, nominated, seconded, and appointed himself as umpire. Thus the game continued with the two opposing managers calling the foul.

The game was one of the finest exhibitions of Irish basketball—that hardy game with only one rule—that if the ball goes in the basket, two points are scored for the thrower's side. Lexington led at the quarter, 11 to 6, and at the half-time by a single point, 22 to 21.

In the second half Paul Hendrick, captain of High School quintet, tried his hand at the job of referee. However, the rest period hadn't cooled off the boys a bit and fun started. Exactly who landed the first right is not known, but Winn laid big Naps on the team, aided materially by Ed Gallucci. The Minute Boys are stellar Irish basketball artists, but these two Arlington lads showed them the way around in the one-two idea.

The second teams had a little milder contest. The game was finally finished with many near explosions, with Lexington on top, 27-23. The victory should be a little "salty" for the visitors employed most of their first-stringers a large part of the time.

An interested spectator in the whole affair, the reporter wishes to stress the fact that the Arlington boys did try to stop the roughness. But Lexington kept right on pressing things, until Winn's boiling point was reached.

THE SPORT ADVOCATER

The High School sextet is still searching for that something which disappeared after the Rindge game. The beating the boys took from Stoneham putting them near the cellar position in the league without much help expected from Melrose tomorrow, either.

The utter lack of ice in these climates hurt Arlington more than the rest. Coach Downs had developed a good six, using Lux at center on the second line. Thus he had two combinations which functioned well and pressed the Arlington attack. With Lux's bow out of game, due to studies of the gear machine was thrown out of gear. Since that time the team has been unable to practice much to discover a winning combination.

The main difficulty now is speed. When a Red and Gray skater gets the jump, none on the line-up is fast enough to prevent being overtaken.

Ralph Haskell, the 228-lb. Brown and Nichols athlete, is a local boy. He wrestles in the unlimited class on the wrestling team. He also covers the job of goalie on the hockey team.

The Brown and Nichols' cox of the eight-oared shell to date is Percy Goodale. It is rumored, however, that the light-haired lad from Morning-side has a bit too much avoirdupois for the boys to give him a free ride much longer.

The basketball news of the week is largely concerned with the mat of officials. At the High School Belmont game the boys were considerably handicapped by an over-zealous referee, who saw only Arlington errors.

The High School's chances of a good court season took a bound upward with the 23-19 victory over Belmont. The pleasing part was the way Hamilton stepped in when Hendrick was put off the floor. The sub-center scored 10 important points.

The incongruous part of the basketball game between the Lexington Minute Boys and the Arlington A. A. Wednesday night was the fact that the only men to be put off the floor were the referees. Manning started and gave away to Crocco. Paul Hendrick tied his hand in the second half. He vacated when the skirmish broke out.

The whole trouble should be laid at the door of "Polly" Harris, the Paul Revere League head, who failed to send over a referee. It is too bad that Arlington's first league game should have ended thus.

No wonder the British didn't have a show back in '75 if these Lexington boys are the direct descendants of the patriots.

The Arlington players really tried to stop the roughness, but Lexington wouldn't cooperate. When the fun really began, however, Arlington was not reluctant.

Winn, the A. A. A. center, is the cleanest basketball player we have ever had the pleasure of watching. He stood it longer than seemed humanly possible, taking everything with a smile.

Arlington A. A. Hockey

The probable lineup for the game tomorrow night will be: Leverone, c.; Vossahlik, rw.; Donnelly, lw.; Walsh, ld.; Thoren, rd.; and Sakoiian, g. The substitutes are Mee, White, Warnock, Banks, Quinn, Hurd, O'Hara and Miller.

The schedule of the league follows: Wednesday, January 25—Blessed Sacrament vs. Union Boat Club; University City vs. Crescent A. C.; Pere Marquette vs. Arlington A. A.

Saturday, January 28—Boston H. C. vs. St. Anne; Berry H. C. vs. M. C. North Cambridge vs. West Roxbury.

Junior High School East
Defeats West, 20-19

The Junior High School East defeated the Junior High West at the East gymnasium last Friday afternoon by the score of 20 to 19. After a close battle for the first half the East team put on a flashy attack in the second half that carried it to victory.

In the first quarter Mahoney and O'Brien of the West gave the team an eight-point advantage. Then up to half-time the game was close, with the West having a 15-14 margin.

When the East took the floor for the last half, however, they settled down to a steady defensive and a consistent scoring attack. Led by Captain Edward Preston, who scored four field goals, the East took complete command of the game for the remainder of the game. Excellent passing and accurate shooting by Holway, right forward for the East, contributed greatly to the team's advantage.

The East previously defeated the Junior High School Center by a score of 20 to 19. The teams meet again this season. The summary:

The stars are Gary Cooper, Wynne Gibson, Charles Laughton, Jack Oakie, Frances Dee, Charlie Ruggles, Allison Skipworth, W. C. Fields, Mary Boland, Roscoe Karns, May Robson, Gene Raymond, Lucien Littlefield and Richard Bennett.

"The Penguin Pool Murder," the companion feature, is a fast-stepping comedy mystery with Edna May Oliver, James Gleason, Robert Armstrong, Mae Clark and Donald Cook. Adapted from Sturges Palmer's best seller, it concerns a comical schoolmarm and smart-aleck police inspector who solve the murder of a man whose dead body was discovered in the penguin's tank in the aquarium.

Hailed as the greatest romantic team in motion pictures, Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell are said to be winning new laurels with their latest vehicle, "Tess of the Storm Country" which starts on Thursday. Miss Gaynor enacts the part of an elderly sea-captain's fiery-tempered daughter and Farrell that of a millionaire's son who first meets her when she saves him from drowning off the Maine coast. With its picturesque New England backgrounds and a notable supporting cast, the film should prove highly popular. Dudley Digges, Claude Gillingwater, June Clyde, George Meeker, Matty Kemp and DeWitt Jennings have promised to make the picture a success.

Simplifies Tracing Of Criminals
Boston police headquarters gained another adjunct in the pursuit and identification of criminals recently, when equipment was delivered which will help police to identify a law breaker by means of as little evidence as one finger print found at the scene of the crime.

Camera Device
The key to the apparatus is an intricate and peculiarly arranged camera device called a Dextragraph. With this, experts in the police bureau of records can copy individual finger prints from the existing record cards of important criminals on to sensitized cards which when developed and dried, can be filed for future reference.

Known as the single print system, the apparatus in this usage will enable police henceforth to make progress when they have but one finger print to work on.

Explaining the value of this new apparatus, officials pointed out a report from Scotland Yard that 176 or more positive identifications were made there last year by the single print system alone.

Safe-breakers, automobile thieves and such, will be among the important criminals whom the police will honor by utilizing their expensive new apparatus.

In the past, investigators have been held to a standstill through the fact that at scenes of crimes only scattered prints of fingers could be located and photographed, and there was no means of knowing what finger it was, nor to what hand it belonged.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST SCIENTIST

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ Scientist, on Sunday, January 22.

The Golden Text is: "I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people: I will sing unto thee among the nations. For thy mercy is great unto the heavens, and thy truth unto the clouds" (Psalms 57:9, 10).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free" (John 8:31, 32).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The best sermon ever preached is Truth practised and demonstrated by the destruction of sin, sickness, and death. Truth makes a new creature, in whom old things pass away and 'all things are become new.' Passions, selfishness, false appetites, hatred, fear, all sensuality, yield to spirituality, and the superabundance of being is on the side of God, good" (p. 201).

"WHATEVER YOU NEED YOU PAY FOR"

"Whatever you need, you pay for, whether you buy it or not."
We can all remember paying for things we didn't buy—sometimes in hard cash two or three times over.

There was that time the kitchen faucet leaked and we put off calling the plumber. The drip, drip on the enamel of the sink was annoying, but not half so annoying as we thought paying the plumber would be. Then we got the water bill and it hadn't jumped any faster than we jumped for the telephone to call the plumber. We realized then that we had been paying for every drop of water, and, of course, we had to pay the plumber, too.

Then, do you remember when your electric light got dimmer and dimmer and you couldn't seem to remember to get new bulbs? It took just as much electricity for the light in which you strained your eyes as it would have for bright light from new bulbs. You were paying for the light you didn't get, paying double, in eye strain and in actual cash.

Once you saved both time and money, not changing the oil in the crank case of your automobile. At least you thought you had, until a heart-breaking thump, thump told you a bearing had burned out. Then you had the oil changed—and paid for a new bearing and for having it put in, and spent several more hours than it would have taken to have the oil changed in the first place. There was that night you were so worried because Bob didn't come home. It was nearly two o'clock and he should have been home by midnight. However, there wasn't any serious accident. He ran out of gas three miles from the nearest filling station.

Our neighbors don't like their new dining room wall paper any better than that they had put on last year, but there was a little leak in the roof that they postponed having mended partly because when it didn't rain it didn't need it and when it did rain it couldn't be mended. The last hard storm spoiled the dining room paper so now they have paid for that and the shingles, too.

We could multiply instances indefinitely, all the way from the postponed visit to the dentist, which resulted in expensive bridge work, to the shoes we thought we couldn't afford to have mended. We had to buy new ones.

Perhaps the idea that we can't afford even the things we need influences us more just now than it usually does. As a matter of fact less this year than ever can we afford not to buy the things we need. Less than ever can we afford to pay double for those things that we must have.

Least of all, now, can the merchant afford to do without advertising. Like everyone else, he pays for what he needs—advertising in this case—whether he buys it or not. There is the slow overturn of stock; its resultant deterioration, which makes necessary a bargain sale, and the bargain sale must be advertised. So he loses on his stock and he buys, at last, the advertising he should have gotten at first. And, of course, he pays for it.

Whether or not his store is filled with customers, his overhead expenses continue. He pays just as much rent when his customer is a rara avis as when would-be buyers flock in. An idle clerk has to be paid as much as a busy one. If the merchant goes long enough without advertising, he may be able to dispense with a clerk, but what compensation will he receive for his own time?

He will pay most dearly when, the depression at an end, he sweeps the cobwebs from his door and prepares to welcome his old customers. He will find, we fear, that they have forgotten all about him. And the only effective way that he can recall himself to them and them to his store, will be by an advertising campaign in which he will use, and pay for, all the newspaper space he needed months before. To make up for those days when he allowed his name to sink into oblivion, when he was constantly losing sales, he will probably need even more advertising.

"Whatever you need, you pay for, whether you buy it or not."

Hereand There

The Citizens' Committee, one of the local political organizations, met Tuesday night, but nothing definite was done toward endorsing a candidate for selectman. There were more than one hundred people present, who participated in lively debate, but changes in the by-laws seemed to occupy the entire interest of the committee.

All we can say is that this is the year of years when we must elect a strong upright man to the Board of Selectmen. It would be a good idea to let intra-party differences go by the board, forget personal quarrels, endorse the right man—then devote every effort to electing him. To put a weak sister into the Town Hall this year would be very, very dangerous.

Since writing the above we learn that Hollis M. Gott is announcing his candidacy for the Board of Selectmen this week. Mr. Gott previously served on the board for two terms and was last year defeated by Leonard Collins by a close margin. But he came back fast last fall and was elected Representative to the General Court from this district by a very flattering vote. We assume that he hopes for the endorsement of the Citizens' Committee at the meeting next week, but he is in the race anyway.

The failure of the committee to endorse candidates reminds us of a story which Rev. Grady D. Feagan told us last week.

A country gentleman ordered a bicycle from one of the great mail-order houses. When it arrived he found that the handlebars and the sprocket were missing. Angrily he wrote the following letter: "Dear Sirs: I got part of my bicycle all right, but the sprocket and the handlebars are missing. I might have known better than to deal with a cheap mail order house, anyway. I thought before that you were a low-down, cut-price, goshaw, bunch of crooks and now I know I was right. Most sincerely, Farmer Brown, P. S. I found the handlebars and sprocket in another box."

Perhaps some of the candidates will find the handlebars and the sprocket next week. If not they will have to supply their own.

An item in the Arlington Daily News was called to our attention last week. It reads as follows: "The Arlington Police Department now has a new Chevrolet in which to make its tours of the town. Let's hope that the new models will not develop a whistle in the clutch which might be mistaken for a police whistle."

Frankly, the paragraph was a surprise to us. Could it be that the Chief of Police made a mistake in his choice of automobiles? Could it be that a Chevrolet is a lemon? Well, anyway, the chief does not think so. He is perfectly satisfied with his new Chevrolet. Of course, he might be equally satisfied with a Ford or a Plymouth, that is not for us to say. But he says that there is no noise in the Chevrolet clutch at all—let alone one approximating a police whistle.

A little further down in the column in which the above quoted item appeared, we found another which was as follows: "If some of the auto dealers in town with cars of known merit would advertise in the local newspaper, possibly some of the sales now going out of town, to dealers who do advertise, would stay in Arlington."

Since the Arlington Advocate has been considered the local newspaper for the past sixty-one years, we should certainly say "Amen" to the above. But appearing where it did and at that particular time, we can't help but think that it goes a long way toward explaining the remark about clutches and policemen's whistles.

The Chief did say that he had had trouble with clutches in his Ford in the past, but he hastened to add that he would expect to have trouble with the clutches of any make of car if he did not take certain precautions. In the first place, he said, these scout cars are operating twenty-four hours a day every day and will run up a lot of distance in the course of a year. Then, the drivers will thoughtlessly allow their feet to rest on the clutch pedal and somehow or other the brogans of policemen are not noted for their small size or lightness.

So what does the Chief do? He puts truck clutches in his cars and then there is no trouble. The cops can rest their number twelves on the pedals all they want to, and no harm is done. It takes a real man to disengage the clutch of a scout car when the Chief gets through with it.

SOPHISTICATED ONLOOKER.

A. J. Hanson Builds Ship Models for Amusement

An article in the Boston Herald Sunday reveals Albert J. Hanson of 35 Bonad road as a builder of ship models as well as a consulting engineer. Mr. Hanson's profession is engineering—mechanical, electrical and civil; his hobby is the making of exquisite models.

He has in his home wood and metal working machinery with which he can turn out model ship fittings with precision. His latest model is designed for miniature racing and can be adjusted to sail in any direction. It is a forty-two inch Marconi rigged sloop with rigging of galvanized stranded wire and sails of Lonsdale cambric.

Particularly beautiful is the model of the fishing-racing schooner Bluenose of Lunenburg, N. S., a picture of which was used to illustrate the article. It carries all the equipment to be found on the Bluenose, including a nest of six dories less than two inches long.

—Esther Shumacher, M. D., superintendent of the Methodist Hospital at Kolar, India, was the speaker Tuesday evening at an open meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the First M. E. church. INSURE EDUCATION SAY HIGH SCHOOL HEADMASTERS

The following letter, sent to the Advocate by Herman Gammons, principal of the High School, was prepared by a committee of high school headmasters and has been endorsed by the Massachusetts High School Principals' Association and by Dr. Payson Smith, Commissioner of Education in Massachusetts.

To Parents and Friends of High School Boys and Girls:

The high school headmasters of Massachusetts invite your attention to a crisis which confronts the American public high school. As parents, your greatest service to your children is to insure them an education. As taxpayers, you must realize that the public high school is an investment by society to safeguard the integrity of democracy. The public school is the cornerstone of our government. As citizens, you know that education is a debt to youth—an obligation of one generation to another. Education opens the door of opportunity to all children of all the people—opportunity to rise, to grow, to improve.

The headmasters of your high schools are charged with the duty of educating young people in accordance with your wishes. Nobody in the community is in a better position than the headmaster to know what the high school is doing and what it can do.

The welfare of your children and of society is jeopardized by a subsidized systematic attack upon the schools. An organized attempt is being made to scrimp the schools, to change their character, and to cheapen the type of education offered. A determined effort is being made to wrest the management of schools from schoolmen and boards of education.

The headmasters urge that the wholesale application of the guillotine to the high school be checked. Continued retrenchment will weaken the morale of the teaching force, lower the standards of instruction, and retard the accomplishment and development of boys and girls. Economic depression should not be permitted to lower the worth and character of our youth. The public high school should provide an educational opportunity varied according to the capacity of adolescent individuals and the needs of society. The high school should educate for living, whether the recipient enters industry, commerce, agriculture, or a profession. The headmasters recommend a firm stand against unwisdom in school budgets. In the educational line of battle the high school is at Verdun. Retreat would be ruinous. Let us maintain our trusteeship of youth. Let us not default our obligation. Let us defend, improve, and fortify the public high school in the interest of posterity.

Many Depression Gardens Growing in Arlington

"Depression Gardens" are flourishing all over Arlington. Bright orange, green, blue, pink, white, according to the dye or lack of dye chosen by the grower, the ammonium salt flowers crawl over the coal or clinders used as a base and over the container.

Charles W. Skinner, teacher of chemistry and physics at the High School, told his pupils how to make the gardens, and most of them went home and experimented. The father of one of the boys scoffed at the idea. That was Dr. Leslie Hammi. Now, Dr. Hammi carries bits of clinder and coal, a little dye and ammonia in his bag with his medicines; prescribes "Depression gardens" for his convalescing patients, and fills his own prescription.

Mr. Skinner is not only an adept in garden making, but he knows something of the history of the bud. The gardens may be new to us but they were made as far back as 1369. In the time left over from stamp collecting Mr. Skinner interests himself in old chemistry books of which he has several. In one of these he found the picture of the "garden" made in 1368. It was described by the French chemist, Moissin. Mr. Skinner, by the way, recommends the container of the old "garden." It was grown in a wingless alkali gave to it a particularly beautiful form.

It is on the creeping characteristics of the crystallizing ammonium salts that the flowering of the garden depends. Accordingly, ammonia is indispensable. Blueing is non-essential. For coloring, any dye may be used, though mercurichrome has been the favorite. Mr. Skinner suggested to his pupils that they boil postage stamps to get color, not, however, from their collections.

Philathea Society Hears Missionary Speakers

The Philathea Society of the First Baptist church had its regular meeting in social hall Monday evening. A most delicious supper was served under the direction of Mrs. N. G. Homer and Mrs. Augustus York and their splendid committee. The tables were attractively decorated in pink and silver. Rev. Grady D. Feagan, the pastor, offered the blessing. The meeting opened with a short session of business under the leadership of Mrs. A. E. Stevens, the society's president, after which Miss Ruby Cowan gave a piano solo and Miss Esther Alsen, the secretary, led in prayer.

The speakers of the evening were Rev. and Mrs. Raymond Baker of Kengtung, Burma, who gave a most enjoyable sketch entitled "A Scene in Lahu Land." Mr. and Mrs. Baker were dressed in native costume and were most interesting.

The meeting was under the direction of the missionary committee, Miss Mary Holman, chairman.

This WINTER

build in conveniences

Winter is always the best season for installing built-in home conveniences because it is an off building season—materials and labor cost less on an average.

—but this year beats them all. Never has a dollar been able to buy so many permanent, value-increasing, adjuncts to the home.

Closets, cupboards, bookcases, shelves, new rooms in the attic and clean, new floors will last many, many years—long after the winter of 1932-1933 has faded from memory, but the chances are they'll never be bought so reasonably another winter.

Make home improvements this winter. Be thrifty, get practical when dollars buy the most.

We can install quickly any home improvement. We'll gladly furnish estimates without obligation and arrange easy terms if you like.

MRS. HAWKES ATTENDS EAST BRIDGEWATER ANNIVERSARY

Mrs. Franklin P. Hawkes of Howard street went to East Bridgewater last Friday to attend the twentieth anniversary of the East Bridgewater Woman's Club, whose president she was from 1922 to 1924. The feature of the observance was a pageant depicting the history of the club. The period of Mrs. Hawkes' office was shown by a lighted Christmas tree, about which carols were sung, since it was during her incumbency that the club sponsored the first community Christmas tree. It was also told how during those two years the club worked hard for and finally secured a visiting nurse.

Church of Our Saviour Girls' Club Entertains

Friday the 13th turned out to be a very pleasant evening for those who attended the first entertainment of the Girls' Club, recently organized under the direction of Mrs. C. O. Larson at the Church of Our Saviour.

The entertainment opened with the presentation of a one-act playlet, "The New Teacher." The cast was as follows: Pupils—Ruth Hickey, Ruth Gebow, Dorothy Warner, Laurence Cook, Rita Riley, Clarence Christiansen, Roy Anderson, Jessie Hall, Vincent Bedala, James Sears. The leading parts were acted by Ernestine Ware, Marcia Simblest, Dorothy Maxim and Virginia Larsen as the teacher.

During the intermission, a splendid program of varied music was given by a newly formed orchestra comprising boys from Junior High East, namely: James Sears, directed by Roy Doyle, piano; Jesse Hall, sax.; Roy Anderson, sax.; Vincent Bedala, banjo.

The second half of the entertainment was featured by a variety of novelties, including reading by Barbara Thurston, Doris Kellogg and Rita Riley; Saxophone solo, Roy Anderson; Military Tap, Ernestine Ware, and a cleverly executed song and dance by Burt Kelsey, well-known Radio Rascal star. The finale was a semi-classic fantasy, entitled "The Heart Shogun," interpreted by Virginia Larson as "The Maid," and Burt Kelsey as "Love."

Incidentally, Miss Larson and Mr. Kelsey were recently featured together in the dramatic recital of the New England Conservatory of Music in Jordan Hall in Oscar Wilde's "The Birthday of the Infanta," under the direction of Clayton D. Gilbert, head of the dramatic department of the Conservatory.

Bradshaw-Friendly Union Hears of Welfare Work

Arlington Welfare speakers provided the afternoon program at the all day sewing meeting of the Bradshaw-Friendly Union which was held Monday at the Orthodox Congregational church. Miss Edith Fandel described the work of the visiting nurses and Mrs. Roscoe Perry that of the Welfare Council. Miss Edith Winn was to have discussed the Free Bed at the Symmes Arlington Hospital, but she was unable to be present, so she sent a splendid report. Mrs. Frank Carlson sang solos which were much enjoyed.

A delicious supper was served by Mrs. Thomas Pittre's group at tables prettily decorated with pink candles. In the evening, Mrs. Franklin P. Hawkes reviewed the history of scouting for girls, particularly in this country, telling also something of Mrs. Storror's Swiss chalet, which is international. She told in what ways Arlington scouts could be helped and spoke of the excellent condition of scout work here.

Especially interesting was the audience in the outline of Boy Scout work given by Emens Guernsey of Troop Eight. Emens told what the Arlington boys are doing in their troops and something about camping. Miss Gracia Eagleson's Group realized over ten dollars on the auction of kitchen materials and Albert W. Wunderly, as the auctioneer, provided much amusement.

RUTH POSSELT HAVING GREAT TRIUMPH ABROAD

Miss Ruth Posselt, the niece of Miss Grace Gordon Pierce, supervisor of music in the town schools, is having a great triumph abroad, where she has been called the greatest living woman violinist.

When Jacques Thibaud was in Boston he heard Miss Posselt, who is but seventeen years old, play, and recognized her ability. Mrs. Alvan T. Fuller sent her abroad to study with Thibaud and she is now living at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thibaud. She has played in London and in Amsterdam. A Dutch musical critic called her, "the Adeline Patti of the violin."

SCHOOL COMMITTEE MEMBER ANSWERS FIN. COM. HEAD

There are two sides to every story and because we were hearing so much from one source the School Committee thought that there were many citizens that would like to know what the School Committee was doing. Therefore, the Committee voted unanimously to release our budget for 1933 to the press after it had been sent to the Finance Committee.

One of the disadvantages of our local town form of government is that the townspeople get too little first hand information of the conduct of our elective bodies. I believe that more information should be given through the press and for that reason I am taking the time to answer your headline of January 18, "School Budget Masterpiece of Deceit and Falsity."

As the 1933 figures were given in gross rather than net, cannot see where any one could be deceived by the article. The question raised was in regard to a $40,000 item and the manner in which it was appropriated. Regardless of the latter point, this item was included in the tax levy of $2,200,000 and expended by the School Committee. The Chairman of the Finance Committee wanted a 10% reduction in the tax levy which would amount to $220,000. If $40,000 was appropriated last year and expended by the School Committee, and will not be again this year, what is false in the School Committee's action in calling this a saving? By the way, it will take just about $40,000 to complete the new high school auditorium.

Arlington Salaries Low

I have been under the impression for some time that the only thing that the Chairman of the Finance Committee was interested in was a 10% salary reduction. Bear in mind that a committee, appointed to investigate the school department, rendered a report last March which was complimentary to say the least, to the present School Committee. I think there are many people who are unaware of the low salaries paid to the school teachers of Arlington. I have made a survey of the salaries paid to 320 employees in the school department with the following results:

There are 160 employees receiving up to $1600 per year; 102, from $1700 to $2000; 40, from $2100 to $2400; 3, from $2500 to $2800; 7, from $3000 to $3400; 1, $4200, and 1, $5000. This is an annual average salary of approximately $1775 or something less than $35 per week based on a 52 week year and, of course, teachers must live during the summer, take courses to keep up with the trends in education and make many disbursements that other town employees are not required to meet. Considering the education, training, experience and the high quality of service rendered by our teachers, I do not hesitate to say that they are underpaid. The following communities will be readily recognized and their salary schedules for teachers are all higher than the town of Arlington: Belmont, Boston, Brookline, Cambridge, Chelsea, Everett, Medford, Melrose, Newton, Revere, Somerville, Winchester.

Believes 10% Contribution Too High

I am not advocating increases for our teachers, but I do believe that a 10% contribution is too much to ask from 97% of our school employees, which is the percentage of those receiving below $2800 per year. If the school employees were to continue their 5% contribution, I believe that would be sufficient.

I believe that now is the time to make salary adjustments and believe that the Finance Committee should study the salaries of all town employees, make recommendations for reductions, grant no increases, and if he saving does not amount to $150,000, ask for contributions from all employees to make up the difference. It is said that the tax rate is relatively unimportant. I believe it is important and should never be higher than $30. If there is any likelihood of its going above that figure, then is the time to reduce salaries.

In regard to giving credit, what about the $7,381 donated by the employees of the School Department since October, $22,000 returned to the town treasury as an unexpended balance by the School Committee, and over $50,000 reimbursement from the State because of school activities? I am willing to give full credit to the Finance Committee for any work they may do, but if they insist in reducing the budget to an unwarranted figure, which will require the elimination of work now carried on, they must be ready to take the blame.

Very truly yours,
JOSEPH J. BEVINS,
Member of the School Committee.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB HEARS SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT

The second January meeting of the Arlington Fortnightly Club was held in Robbins Library Hall Wednesday evening. After a brief business meeting, Mrs. John J. Casey presented Dr. Clarence H. Dempsey, superintendent of schools, as the guest speaker of the evening.

Dr. Dempsey ably outlined the steady decline of the school appropriations during the past three years when there has been maintained the full quota of curriculum subjects and activities for an ever-increasing number of pupils. He emphasized as fundamentals, health improvement, and preservation, character formation, the adaptability of the proper program to the individual needs of the pupil and guidance toward a successful vocation. Responding applause expressed the audience's appreciation of the speaker's human and humorous understanding of educational problems and possibilities today.

A quartette of stringed instruments offered a group of pleasing musical selections. The players were Phyllis Edwards, Audrey Lester, Phyllis Nelson and Purcell Lester, students of the Senior High School who are directed by Miss Charlotte Woods, music teacher at Junior High Center. Flowers were presented to Mrs. Dempsey and candy to the youthful guest artists. The members and guests were received by Dr. and Mrs. Dempsey and by the club president, Mrs. Casey. A truly delightful and instructive evening was brought to a close when refreshments were served.

MR. BINMORE SPEAKS TO LIBRARY STAMP CLUB

Mr. Binmore of the New England Stamp Company gave an entertaining and helpful talk at last week's meeting of the Library Stamp Club. He told the boys how to make a collection grow and how large it was possible for one of limited means to make a general collection. He then advised them as to specialization. At yesterday's meeting in Junior Library Hall, Charles W. Skinner, teacher of chemistry and physics at the High School, explained the use of the catalogue.

"ANNETTE'S SUCCESS" REPEATED AT ST. JAMES

"Annette's Success," a musical comedy written and directed by Miss Laura A. Hallisey, and originally presented several weeks ago at Junior High East was repeated in St. James' Hall Tuesday evening before a large and enthusiastic audience.

In addition to those that appeared in the original production the following pupils of Miss Hallisey gave solo dance numbers—Winifred Kent, Mary Larson and Marion Snow. John Hallisey did a specialty military tap and Miss Hallisey, with Charles Valente as her partner, closed the program with an exhibition waltz.

The affair was sponsored by the Catholic Women's Guild of St. James' church.

The speakers were Mrs. Webber from the Massachusetts Parent-Teacher Association, and Mrs. Hall, principal of the Adams School in Lexington. Mrs. Webber spoke of "The Purpose of Parent-Teacher Organization." Mrs. Hall, who has had a successful organization in her school for several years, told of her experiences and what her members have done to make it a real live organization. Mr. Shepherd favored the assembly with several vocal selections.

The officers were chosen by ballot. Those elected to serve were Mrs. Edwards as president, Mrs. Shepherd as vice-president, Mrs. Bullock as secretary, and Miss Hemphill as treasurer.

ARLINGTON MEN'S CLUB ENTERTAINS THE LADIES

The Arlington Men's Club held its annual Ladies' Night Wednesday evening at the Orthodox Congregational church. Frederick B. Thompson of Brantwood road pronounced the invocation. The president, Dr. Franklin P. Hawkes, welcomed the ladies and after the excellent dinner had been enjoyed read the message from Kiwanis International, which urged the stressing of spiritual values.

The Tufts College Glee Club furnished the evening's entertainment, singing college songs and other pleasing selections. Prof. and Mrs. Lewis came with the boys. Prof. Lewis, who has been connected with the college's music department for forty years gave interesting reminiscences. Some especially fine numbers were played by a quartet composed of two violins, a viola and a cello. The program closed with the singing of "The Brown and the Blue."

WAR MEMORIAL MODEL IN BLAKE'S SHOW WINDOW

tracting considerable attention. The sculptor is Paul V. Winters of 60 Mt. Vernon street.

The sketch is a figure of a marching doughboy with head erect and step firm, depicting the vision and determination of youth, inspired by patriotism, as they went forth to their country's service.

Mr. Winters was graduated from the Arlington High School in 1925. He attended the Massachusetts School of Art for five years, where he studied under Cyrus E. Dallin and Raymond A. Porter. He was assistant to his former teacher, Mr. Porter, on the Senator Lodge Memorial, now at the State House, the Leominster War Memorial and the Somerville Spanish War Memorial. His work includes a bust of Dr. Serge Koussevitzky, Conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, now in the Music Room of the Boston Public Library.

Arlington Kiwanis Activities

Meets Thursdays at 12.15 p. m. at Wyman's

This week's meeting turned out to be a birthday party. "Kiwanis International" is 18 years old this week, and maybe our committee didn't do things in a big way.

Paper hats, favors, noisemakers, not to forget the eats which Franklin fixed up a little nicer, if that is possible.

F. P. contributed many appropriate remarks relative to anniversary week and topped off by reading Carl E. Endicott's 1933 message.

Jack O'Leary, Chairman of the Undernourished Child Committee, made his report, telling of the number of children the Club was furnishing transportation for, to and from school, and explained the details of this all-important work.

On a motion of Chet Whitman, which was unanimously voted upon by the club, the house committee was instructed to procure a mourning streamer to be placed upon our flag staff for 30 days in honor of the death of ex-president Calvin Coolidge. This being in conformity with President Hoover's proclamation.

Heard at the Meeting

This is a "Fine" Club, says Warren Guild as F. P. imposes a 10c fine, then makes it twenty as Warren tries to excuse himself and then has to pay Jim Keane a quarter as Jim had no change.

Walter Chamberlain, our silver tongued tenor, is letting himself in for something by requesting more up-to-date music. You'll get it Walter and as for thanks, just "say it with songs."

Will Ray Mauger and Mervin Brown please get together and produce a joke-book?

What was that the boys kept calling Maurice Hatch today? Past President Spin started it and the only way to stop it, Maurice, is to make a speech.

Grange Celebrates Tenth Anniversary

Arlington Grange No. 376, P. O. H., celebrated its tenth anniversary in G. A. R. Hall on Wednesday evening. A delicious turkey supper was served at 6.30 by Mrs. Elizabeth McKay and her committee. The tables were attractively decorated in yellow and blue, the Grange colors. A huge birthday cake with ten candles, the gift of two members, was cut by the first chaplain, Mrs. Eric Hammarbeck, of Lexington, who gave a pleasing address during the ceremony.

After the supper an entertaining program of dancing, readings and songs was arranged by Irene Charron who presented her pupils of the Charron Dancing Studio. The pupils entertaining were Ruth Bullock, Mary Vellone, Ann Lois Stierhoff, Mary Sullivan, Betty Jane Ulen, Arthur Brodie, Margaret Slattery, Dorothy Mead and Lila Brodie. Many of the charter members were present, as well as Past officers and their short addresses gave an interesting survey of the work being done by the Grange and the many accomplishments of the group during the past years.

Welfare Council Annual Meeting Next Friday

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Welfare Council will take place on January 27. It is hoped all members can be present. All organizations represented will want to know the results of the work for 1932.

It has been customary for members of the different organizations to bring to their own meetings food stuffs, such as canned goods and dry groceries, which the Welfare turns over to needy persons. If each member will bring one article to his or her organization it will do a great deal of good. Canned tomatoes are especially requested, owing to the amount of food value contained therein. These goods will be called for by the Welfare Council if necessary.

Boys, girls and adults are asked to collect as many Clifcot Club caps as possible and take them to the Fire Station. Each cap means a penny for welfare.

Evening Alliance Has Bicentennial Meeting

The selections included "Liebesfreud" by Kreisler, the famous Brahms waltz a gypsy tango, "Jalousie" by Gade, and Schubert's Ave Maria.

PLANNING BOARD SUGGESTION AWAITS JOINT BOARD ACTION

contains eleven plans. Of these he regards those lettered C, B and G with the greatest favor. C, which seems most desirable, places the loop between the Boston and Maine tracks and Mystic street, in almost the exact location advocated by a group of citizens and described in the Advocate a few weeks ago.

G, the second in merit, makes the loop run down Moore place to the Boston and Maine tracks and beside the tracks to Massachusetts avenue. In B, the loop would run along the upper side of the railroad tracks at the Center, around the Old Town Hall and the business block just above it, and back to the avenue by the road that leads to the railroad station.

Should Offer Elevated Choice

Mr. Taylor points out that it would be only fair, so close in merit are these three, to offer the Elevated the opportunity to approve of any of them. "It should be kept in mind," says his report, "that of itself a loop is not likely to prove of any great benefit to Arlington, other than in possible solving the outbound loading and seating problem during rush hours, and that the Boston Elevated Railway is the one to profit the most, that they are the ones who will bear the cost and that if Arlington does not cooperate with them in effecting operating economies, Arlington cannot expect to obtain their cooperation in matters of general transportation improvement."

If none of the three plans described meets the approval of the Elevated, he suggests that they be offered one of the next three—E, D or F. E provides for tracks up Pond Lane to the railroad tracks and along the tracks to near the Massachusetts avenue crossing. D for the use of the present switchback opposite the Robbins Library and F for a new switchback at Monument Square.

Arlington Not Included in Rapid Transit

It is the present intention of the Elevated, says Mr. Taylor, to build rapid transit to North Cambridge. The plan does not include Arlington. Unless some inducement is offered, Arlington is not likely to have rapid transit for a long time. The loop favored would be one that could be used in the future. Accordingly, those loops which neighbor the railroad tracks seem to Mr. Taylor the best.

Careful traffic counts were made before the plans for the loops were drawn. These counts showed not only the congested traffic condition at the Center, but proved that the potential business in Arlington is large enough to warrant rapid transit. They showed also that the Elevated is now spending about $20,000 a year to run practically empty cars to the Heights and back.
